

Workshop on “Coping with large migration flows in low and middle income countries”

Rome, October 22nd 2019

Comunità di Sant'Egidio
Via di S. Gallicano, 25A, 00153 Rome

The Italian Center for International Development (ICID), of CEIS (Center for Economic and International Studies) of the University of Rome "Tor Vergata", organizes a Workshop on International Development. The Workshop will convene academics and practitioners to discuss on migration issues and it will be dedicated to the presentation and discussion of the report “Coping with large migration flows in low and middle income countries”, drawn up in collaboration with the Italian Agency for Development Cooperation (AICS).

The report analyzes the challenges that low and middle income countries face in dealing with large flows of refugees and migrants and especially on the interventions that can support their efforts in providing refugees with access to social protection.

The conference will be opened by the Deputy Minister for Foreign Affairs and International Cooperation.

A round table will identify strategies and interventions in the countries of origin and destination to make a sustainable migration.
